

Czar of Alaska

Czar of Alaska

The Cross of Charlemagne

MacGregor Family
Adventure Series
Book Four

a novel by

Richard Trout

Pelican Publishing Company
GRETNA 2005

Copyright © 2005
By Richard E. Trout
All rights reserved

Library of Congress Cataloging-in-Publication Data

Trout, Richard.

Czar of Alaska : the Cross of Charlemagne / by Richard E. Trout.

p. cm. -- (MacGregor Family adventures ; bk. 4)

Summary: While in Alaska, the MacGregors encounter an unusual new threat from ecoterrorists and must work desperately to save the state from a disaster that would impact United States security and the balance of power in the world.

ISBN-10: 1-58980-328-0 (alk. paper)

ISBN-13: 978-1-58980-328-2 (alk. paper)

[1. Alaska--Fiction. 2. Terrorism--Fiction. 3. Ecology--Fiction. 4. Adventure and adventurers--Fiction.] I. Title.

PZ7.T7545Cza 2005

[Fic]--dc22

2005002838

Printed in the United States of America

Published by Pelican Publishing Company
1000 Burmaster Street, Gretna, Louisiana 70053

For Virgil and Gwen Trout, the inspiration for my imagination

Contents

Acknowledgments	8
Prologue: The Bavarian Alps	11
Chapter One: White Out	25
Chapter Two: The Flying Beaver	39
Chapter Three: Captain Cook Inlet	53
Chapter Four: Tastes Like Reindeer	61
Chapter Five: Totem Poles and Tall Peaks	77
Chapter Six: Yukon 66	91
Chapter Seven: Kayak Island	105
Chapter Eight: The Arctic
National Wildlife Refuge	113
Chapter Nine: Chocolate Mousse and Caribou	123
Chapter Ten: 61°7'N, 146°16'W	133
Chapter Eleven: Port of Valdez	145
Chapter Twelve: White Fox	155
Chapter Thirteen: Czarina Catherine II	171
Chapter Fourteen: Natasha Novotski	179
Chapter Fifteen: Thompson Pass	189
Chapter Sixteen: Grover Cleveland #2	197
Chapter Seventeen: Alaska Gold	209
Chapter Eighteen: The Fighting Bat	219
Epilogue: November 17, 1999	241

Acknowledgments

A special thanks to Dr. Neal Coates, Professor Bertha Wise, Lt. Col. Jeff Mager, USAF (ret.), Capt. David Morton, USN (ret.), and Mr. Joe C. Zorger, civilian aviation specialist, for their invaluable input into this series.

Czar of Alaska